

SOCIETY

President Harding Will Formally Receive the Prince of Monaco at White House This Afternoon.

THE President will formally receive his serene highness the Prince of Monaco, Albert I, and the members of his suite at the White House this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The prince will be entertained at luncheon tomorrow by the ambassador of France and Mme. Jusserand, who have invited a large and distinguished company to meet him.

This evening the noted visitor will attend the meeting of the National Academy of Science in the National Museum, when he will be given the Alexander Agassiz medal awarded him by America's foremost scientific body in recognition of his researches in the science of the ocean. The prince will make an address and a reception will follow in the galleries of the museum.

The prince, with his suite which is composed of his aide-de-camp, Commander Bourée, and his physician, Dr. Loret, arrived in Washington last evening and was met at the station by officials of the State Department who accompanied him to the White House where the party will remain during their stay.

The President and Mrs. Harding had luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beale McLean yesterday at the White House. The party was composed of the forty-first trip by motor. They were accompanied by Brig. Gen. Sawyer and returned to Washington later in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean will entertain a large company at luncheon at the White House this afternoon. The party will be composed of the Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge will be the guests of honor at dinner this evening of the Misses Patterson in their home on Massachusetts avenue.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes will be hosts at a banquet followed by a reception this evening at the Pan-American Union building, to be given in honor of the special mission from Venezuela, which is headed by the minister of foreign affairs of that country, Dr. Esteban Gil Borges. The banquet will be held at 8 o'clock and about sixty-five, and additional guests have been asked to the reception, which will be marked with much formality.

The members of the special mission were the guests at a luncheon given today by Senator Manuel S. Sanchez at the New Willard.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Delano Robinson will be hosts at dinner this evening.

Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh will be entertained at a dinner followed by dancing at the home of the Chevre Chase Club, by the members of the dancing class which has met in her Massachusetts street home for the past season. There will be between fifty and sixty guests at dinner with her and the dancing later.

Medical Director W. R. Du Bose, U. S. N. retired, and Mr. Du Bose announce the marriage of their daughter, Kate to Mr. Chester Fletcher, Saturday, April 23.

Mr. Franklin K. Lane, Jr., and Miss McCall will wed.

Mr. Franklin K. Lane, Jr., son of the former Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Lane, will be married to Catherine McCall, daughter of Mrs. James McCall, who were married in New York City, last week. The wedding, Saturday afternoon, will be at home at Bellevue place, Chicago, after October 1. They are now on a southern tour.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. P. H. McCall, and the best man was Mr. E. L. Doherty, Jr., of Los Angeles.

The bride wore a gown of white satin made on straight lines and accented at the waist line with a tiny girly of orange blossoms. The round décolleté and short sleeves were of old rose point lace. Her rose point veil was arranged in cap effect with sprays of orange blossoms, and it fell to the hem of her court train of satin. The bridal bouquet was a shower of white orchids, lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, which was attended by several nationally prominent friends of both families and many residents of different parts of Minnesota. The bride's traveling costume was of tan twill, with which she wore a coat and hat to match.

Count and Countess Raben Lovetza, who were here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goddard Leach at their home in New York City, left for Europe last week. The couple are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goddard Leach at their home in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Bonaparte are at the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York where they will remain until they sail a few weeks hence for Europe.

Mrs. W. H. McCarthy, wife of Col. W. H. McCarthy, U. S. A., will have as her guests this week her brother-in-law and sister, Col. and Mrs. H. H. Davis, who have just returned from Manila after a two-year absence, and will arrive in Washington Wednesday. They will later be joined by Mrs. Munroe, whose Col. Davis will assume command. Many delightful hospitalities are being planned for Col. and Mrs. Davis, who have many friends here. Mrs. McCarthy has given several important dinner parties during the spring season.

Mrs. Louis Titus left Washington yesterday for California and will join Mr. Titus in Burlingame. She will return here the second week in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Price Evans entertained at luncheon yesterday in their home in Washington in honor of the controller of the currency and Mrs. Crissinger and Miss Crissinger.

Mrs. Samuel G. Blythe left yesterday for a ten-day stay in New York.

Col. and Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, who passed the winter in Porto Rico, are back in Washington, and are visiting Mrs. James T. Leavitt.

Additional patronesses for the solo vocal to be given Monday evening, May 2, in the New Willard ballrooms, include the ambassador of France and Mrs. Jusserand, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stabler, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kaufmann, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Welles, Mrs. Thomas F. Logan, Mr. Raymond T. Baker and Mr. John H. Henderson.

Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey has returned from New York, where she was the honor guest of the Woman's Republican Club. Mrs. Mussey spoke by request of the president, Mrs.

German Reply to U. S. Reported Rushed by Telegraph to Hythe

BY GEORGE WITTE.
By Cable to The Star and Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1921.

BERLIN, April 23.—The new German note to the United States on the reparations question was rushed by telegraph to Hythe a few minutes after the note was handed to Hugh Wilson, acting chief of the United States commission here, by Foreign Secretary Simons, according to reliable information received from a high diplomatic source. Allied diplomats here anxiously hope that the new German proposals will be in Premier Briand's hands before he leaves England, thus enabling him to discuss the new proposals with Prime Minister Lloyd George and decide upon a policy without first waiting for the text to be officially communicated to them by the Washington government.

Information as to the new proposals reached the representatives of the allied governments through indirect channels, but it is almost certain that they will be known by the British and French governments before the note is received and deciphered in Washington. In French circles it is asserted that France will not for a moment even consider any German plan to have the whole or even a part of France's debt to the United States transferred to Germany.

The new German reparations proposals sent to Washington in reply to the United States offer to act as mediator on certain conditions, was the product of thirty-six hours of uninterrupted work by members of the cabinet. The original draft of the note was completed late Saturday night, but when its text was made known to the leaders of the political parties in a meeting with President Ebert and Chancellor Fehrenbach it met with determined resistance, and it is stated, on the part of the German people's party, which is controlled by Hugo Stinnes, the industrial magnate.

It is well known fact that Stinnes is after Dr. Simons' scalp, and the changes in the note demanded by his henchmen were such as to make the foreign secretary's resignation inevitable. Just how near the cabinet's decision to the original proposal is more than doubtful whether the Fehrenbach cabinet can last more than a few days more.

ARTS CLUB DRAMATIC SERIES ENDS TOMORROW

Scenes From Shakespeare to Be Presented in Recognition of 357th Birthday.

The regular series of dramatic entertainments at the Arts Club for this season will close tomorrow evening, when the members of the "play" group will give a performance of the dramatic committee, will present a series of scenes from Shakespeare in recognition of the 357th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth.

The program will consist of renderings from "The Merchant of Venice," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Taming of the Shrew," and "As You Like It." Charles B. Hanford has been enrolled by the group, and will render a new scene from "The Merchant of Venice," supported by Mrs. Maud Howell Smith as Portia, the other roles in the trial scene being assigned to Miss Drohn, Mr. Jarvis, Mr. Klein, Mr. Hayes and Mr. Waudy.

A group of scenes from "The Merchant of Venice" will be given by Miss Edith McDowell and Miss Grace McDowell, who will render several readings. It is expected that at least two hundred Oklahomans will be in attendance to welcome their new senator to the National Capital and to the Oklahoma Club.

The Georgia State Society has issued invitations to all Georgians to attend a meeting in the Playhouse, 1314 N. street, tomorrow evening, to give a performance of "The Merchant of Venice," with other characters enacted by Mr. Jarvis, Miss Meyers, Mr. Hayes, Mr. Silver and Mr. Davies.

Miss Edith Goode as Juliet and Mrs. Woodburn as the nurse will give a scene from "Romeo and Juliet," and Mrs. William Woodburn as Audrey, with other characters enacted by Mr. Jarvis, Miss Meyers, Mr. Hayes, Mr. Silver and Mr. Davies.

If the weather is propitious the performance will be given in the garden of the club, otherwise in the stage direction of Felix S. Hayes.

ARTS CLUB PROGRAM.

Large Audience Enjoys Excellent Local Renderings.

Last evening's musical program at the Arts Club comprised song groups by Mrs. Howard S. Bonham, soprano, and Arthur H. Deibert, baritone, whose renderings were greatly enjoyed by an audience that filled the parlors. Mrs. Bonham sang a group of six French songs, as follows: "Ouvre tes Yeux Bleus," by Massenet; "Alors le Soleil," by Fauré; "L'Heure Silencieuse," by Saint-Saëns; "Les Houzards," old French; "Le Mandolin," by Thomas; and "Guitares et Mandolines," by Saint-Saëns. Later she gave "Hopak," by Moussorgsky; "Baiser," by Cyril Scott; "Duna," by Joseph McMill; "King Solomon and the Queen," by Francis Cooke; "The King David," by Hueter; and "Life's Paradise," by Helen Brown. Claude Rolfe, the young violinist, will present selections, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Melton Boyce, and George Finkel, assisted by Frederick F. Bullard; "Allah," by G. W. Chadwick; "Less Than the Seed," by Amy Woodford-Finden; "When the Bells Ring," by Louise Reinhardt, with A. G. Eldridge at the piano.

Alkali in Shampoos

Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulford's at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulford's—Advertisement.
